MELVIN WILLIAMS 'CRAZY LIKE LOVE' FOR SICKLE CELL

Melvin Williams, Grammy Award nominee and Stellar Award winner is using his gospel music ministry to raise awareness and funds for Sickle Cell Anemia.

Personally touched by this disease through his daughter's twenty-three year struggle with it, Williams has made it his personal mission to do whatever he can to combat the disease.

"It's really devastating to go through, to see your child with that and you're there saying, 'well I wish I could just have the pain instead of them,'" Williams tells KSLA News 12 in Shreveport, LA. (Quote Courtesy KSLA TV)

His latest concert will support—in part—Sickle Cell Disease research and was held February 19, at the New Life Missionary Baptist Church in Shreveport, LA. Proceeds from the song "Crazy Like Love" will be donated to the cause.
